What data do we collect?

ASC collects the following data:

- Personal identification information (Name, email address, phone number, mailing address, etc.)
- Optional demographic and employment information
- Usernames and passwords
- Payment information, such as a credit card number (Note that ASC is PCI compliant.)
- Email preferences
- Purchases

How do we collect your data?

You directly provide ASC with the data we collect. We collect data and process data when you:

- Voluntarily become a member or register for our Annual Meeting, or complete any form for payment of services, including but not limited to the Employment Exchange, or donations.
- Use or view our website via your browser's cookies.

How will we use your data?

ASC collects your data so that we can:

- Provide membership services, including:
 - mailing of journals, newsletters. (This requires us to share your mailing information with other entities, such as our publisher, for the specific use of mailing said publications.)
 - emails pertaining to ASC itself, your membership, the Annual Meeting, etc., if you agree in your email settings.
 - membership directory – you have the option of choosing what information appears or if your name should appear at all.
- Process any orders and manage your account, including membership payments, Annual Meeting registrations, donations, Employment Exchange job posts.
- If you agree in your membership settings, ASC occasionally provides your mailing address to interested external entities, usually publishers.
- We may share your contact information with the Executive Board of ASC upon request.
- We share your contact information with any of ASC's Divisions that you may be a part of for their specific use as it pertains to your membership.

What are your data protection rights?

ASC would like to make sure you are fully aware of all of your data protection rights. Every user is entitled to the following:

The right to access – You have the right to request ASC for copies of your personal data. We may charge you a small fee for this service. It is also accessible by logging in to your account on the ASC website.

The right to rectification – You have the right to request that ASC correct any information you believe is inaccurate. You also have the right to request ASC to complete the information you believe is incomplete.

The right to erasure – You have the right to request that ASC erase your personal data, with the understanding that we may not be able to provide any benefits you may otherwise be entitled to as a member.

The right to restrict processing – You have the right to request that ASC restrict the processing of your personal data, under certain conditions.

The right to object to processing – You have the right to object to ASC’s processing of your personal data, under certain conditions.

The right to data portability – You have the right to request that ASC transfer the data that we have collected to another organization, or directly to you, under certain conditions.

If you make a request, we have one month to respond to you. If you would like to exercise any of these rights, please contact us at our email: asc@asc41.com.
